DIRECTORS' REPORT FOR THE YEAR ENDED 31 JANUARY 2023

The directors present their annual report and the audited financial statements for the year ended 31 January 2023.

Our Vision

Chernobyl Children's Project International aims to alleviate the suffering of children affected by the Chernobyl nuclear disaster through self-sustaining development and aid programmes. Our vision is for children and families living within the Chernobyl affected regions who have been affected by the 1986 accident to be provided with the care and support they need through sustainable community initiatives. When children reach adulthood, that they will be given the rights and support to live a life free from involuntary incarceration.

Our Mission

The principal object of Chernobyl Children's Project International is to alleviate distress and to promote the good health of children affected by radiation emanating from the Chernobyl Nuclear Power Plant and in pursuance of this to promote and assist the provision of holidays in Ireland for such children and also to provide appropriate assistance for the medical treatment of such children both in Ireland and in their home countries.

Our long-term aims are to:

- Help disabled children and young adults to become fully fledged members of society.

- Replace institutional care with family and community-based care and services.

- Shut down orphanages and advocate for the rights of children in our programmes.

- Continue to pursue changes to Belarus law regarding the rights of the disabled to live independently and to earn a living.

- Ensure the implementation of the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child and UN Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities in Belarus, through legislation and regulation.

Our Values

Rights of Children – in addition to our programmes aimed at improving the lives of the children affected by the Chernobyl accident we accept a responsibility to advocate for their rights.

Accountability & Transparency – we have responsibility to provide a proper accounting of our activities and related finances to our stakeholders.

Cost effectiveness and value for money – we have a responsibility to have a structure which delivers our programmes as efficiently and as cost effectively as possible.

Principal activities and business review

CCI started the financial year operating with the continuing prohibition on travel between Ireland and Belarus caused by Covid-19. The start of the war following the invasion of Ukraine by Russia on 24 February 2022 and the imposition of sanctions on Russia and Belarus by many countries shortly thereafter brought additional challenges to the management of our programmes in Belarus and calls for CCI to assist in meeting immediate humanitarian needs in Ukraine.

During 2022 our programmes in Belarus which we had run throughout the Covid-19 pandemic were maintained despite the challenges brought about by the war in Ukraine.

Our contribution to the humanitarian crisis in Ukraine was made possible by the generous response we received to our appeal for donations for that purpose. These allowed CCI to fund:

I. 4 cardiac missions by the Novick Cardiac Alliance to Lviv which provided lifesaving surgery to infants requiring complex cardiac surgery not available in Ukraine. As well as performing life-saving surgeries during each mission, the Cardiac team also train and upskill the local surgeons, build local capacity, provide essential equipment and training, and develop expertise.

This sustainability model ensures that the local Ukrainian medics are trained by the international experts, increasing their knowledge and expertise during each mission so that they can begin to carry out the complex surgeries in between CCI's missions.

II. 3 summer camps in the Carpathian Mountains area of western Ukraine which provided a much-needed break for 150 children chosen from areas most affected by the war.

III. Deliveries by Caritas of food, hygiene, and medical supplies and woodburning stoves to the residents of the Ivankiv region and school meals to the children of Radykna school, both in the Chernobyl area and which were hugely impacted by the war.

CCI's Core Activities in Belarus

1. Medical Care Programme:

These programmes provide support to children whose health is affected by the accident at Chernobyl. They comprise of:

Vesnova Children's Mental Asylum: CCI provides nursing care, medical supplies and direct aid to the 174 residents of Vesnova Children's Mental Asylum and continued to do so in 2022.

One aspect of this programme which continued to be affected by Covid-19 was that in 2022 no Irish volunteer multidisciplinary teams travelled to Vesnova. These multi-disciplinary team trips were integral to CCI's work and progress in Vesnova, as volunteers provided training and worked with local staff to care for the sick and disabled children/young adults residing in Vesnova.

Hospice/ Palliative Care Programme:

a) Throughout 2022, CCI provided support for the CCI Developed Baby Hospice in Minsk.

b) CCI provided family services to seriously ill and terminally ill children in their own homes and organises home visits by Palliative Care Outreach teams. These children and their families were also provided food and medication throughout the year.

Community Care and Hospice Programme: The children on this programme are severely impaired and because of the severity of their disabilities cannot attend local rehab centres. CCI provides outreach therapeutic services such as physiotherapy, massage, and speech therapy to children in their own homes, in Minsk and Gomel. The programme also provides food and medication to the children and their families. There were over 50 children and families on this programme.

We were pleased to re-establish the Family Support Days in 2022.

The Family Support Days were designed by CCI to allow families, who rarely leave their homes due to the nature of their children's disabilities and high care needs, to meet with other families to meet, exchange ideas and to have the children enjoy the outdoors and be in the company of others.

2. De-institutionalisation Programmes:

The process of De-Institutionalisation involves CCI providing alternatives to institutional care for children and young adults. Since the Chernobyl disaster, young adults with disabilities have been segregated from society and placed permanently in mental institutions. CCI continues to advocate and prioritise the rehabilitation of children in institutional care, with an overall long-term objective towards deinstitutionalisation in keeping with international best practices. CCI lobbies for legislative change in Belarusian law for those with disabilities currently resident in State institutions and the need for legislation regarding their basic rights to live independently.

As an advocating organisation, CCI consults with the Belarusian authorities to support the implementation of the UN Conventions on the Rights of the Child and the Rights of Persons with Disabilities. The mechanism for the advancement across all CCI's De-institutionalisation work is an Oversight Committee, which is bound by an agreed Memorandum of Understanding for all stakeholders. There were no Oversight Committee meetings in 2022.

Independent Living Programme: CCI has designed and built Independent Living Units in the grounds of Vesnova suitable for young adults with disabilities to live with independence while receiving the support they need. Education is a large element of daily life in the Independent Living Units, which helps residents to build skills in a range of crafts and trades. These facilities were put in place by CCI in recent years and are functioning well.

Community Integration: CCI has acquired and refurbished a house in Glusk whereby more able-bodied former residents of Vesnova can live within the community, with a view to full integration upon the regaining of their rights. The house accommodated 7 people throughout 2022.

Restoration of Rights Programme: This pioneering education-focused programme is providing formal education and skillbuilding for young adults who currently reside in Vesnova, the Independent Living Units, and the Community House. It is anticipated that through formal education from a CCI employed Educator, that these participants will have an opportunity to regain access to their rights and live freely, as engaged, and independent members of their community. Participants of this programme undertake 15 hours of lessons weekly, in a purpose-built classroom on the grounds of Vesnova. These classes were re-established in 2022, following the pandemic.

The programme has seen great success since its inception, with 7 participants having their Rights fully restored, with several more candidates in the process.

Life Skills Home: This education-focused programme has facilitated the closing down of one Unit in Vesnova, which has been transformed into a model home where selected residents of Vesnova will be able to build the skills and capacity of the children from a young age to an age-appropriate level of self-sufficiency, literacy, and numeracy as well as a range of vocational skills. The Life Skills Home in Vesnova was formally opened in February 2018 and was home to 8 children who have been offered formal education and skill-building. The Life Skills Home was closed during the pandemic but was reopened in 2022.

Chausey Independent Living Home: CCI have pioneered the first ever independent living home, the building of which was completed in 2019. The facility was officially opened in July 2021. This is the home for participants who have successfully regained their rights through the Restoration of Rights Programme.

This centre provided accommodation and social support, in the form of 18 apartments separated from the main institution, so that residents can become fully-fledged members of the community. CCI's objective with this development is to show that with training and support, people with disabilities can live a completely independent life. CCI's long-term ambition is for this model to be rolled out across Belarus and bring an end to enforced incarceration and institutionalisation. 10 people now live here, including those who are wheel-chair dependent with plans for more graduates of the Restoration of Rights Programme to reside there in future.

"Homes of Hope" Programme: CCI provides homes in which children, who would otherwise be in institutions, are brought up by foster parents. In response to the on-going institutionalisation of children in Belarus, CCI developed a programme enabling CCI to take children out of institutional care and place them in loving foster homes. CCI has purchased a number of houses which were subsequently renovated with the eventual placement of between 8 and 10 children with Foster Parents in each home. This programme started in 2006 and to date we have purchased and renovated a number of houses which has enabled the equivalent of 2 orphanages to be shut down.

There were approximately 180 children being fostered throughout the year. A key milestone was the handing over of deeds to three families for their 'Home of Hope'.

3. Rest and Recuperation Programme:

Since 1991, Chernobyl Children's Project International Limited (CCI) has brought 25,600 children into Ireland on Rest and Recuperation and approximately 200 children come into Ireland to stay with volunteer host families on a bi-annual basis. This programme has expanded to include Long-term Care Programmes for children requiring critical medical attention and in-country Rest and Recuperation Camps in Belarus for children who are in recovery from cancer or cardiac surgery or who are too ill to travel.

In 2020, children from the Chernobyl region did not travel to Ireland for the first time in over two decades.

As travel to/from Ireland was not possible in 2022, CCI organised in-country two Rest and Recuperation Camps for the children and young adults in Vesnova and Chausey, who would have usually benefited from the R&R Programme. These camps give the children and young adults a much needed break from institutionalised life, in Summer camps that are catered to their individual needs.

The Board of Directors exercises financial control through the adoption of an annual budget, consideration of regular reports from the CEO on the operations of the company and periodic inspections of the financial records and reports, by a board member who is a chartered accountant.

Policies are in place in respect of the procedures to be followed by employees and volunteers during visits to Belarus and Ukraine.

Chernobyl Children's Project International's policy is that all Board Directors, staff, volunteers and local outreach group members are subject to Garda Vetting. The company secretary throughout the financial year was Adrienne Roche.

Directors, company secretary and their interests

CCI is a company limited by guarantee without a share capital and therefore the directors do not hold any beneficial interests in the company.

Principal risks and uncertainties

The Covid-19 Pandemic

The outbreak of the COVID - 19 pandemic in Ireland and other countries early in 2020 created risks for the company due to its economic effects which has adversely impacted on the company's income and through the suspension some of its programmes due to restrictions imposed to curtail the spread of the virus in the countries where the company operates.

War in Ukraine

The invasion of Ukraine on 24 February 2022 resulted in significant operational challenges. The imposing of sanctions on Belarus, as a result of the war, provided challenges to the local team in sourcing aid and supplies as needed. The provision of programmes in Ukraine, namely the Cardiac Programme, was also compromised as the surgical teams were limited to operating in Lviv only. Unpredictably and protracted impact of war on both Belarus and Ukraine has brought a high level of uncertainty to our future operations in both countries.

Financial Risks

Commercial risk

The company's income is exposed to fluctuations due to the changes in the current economic climate and people having less disposable income to spend.

Currency risk

The company's activities are dealt with mainly in Euro; this results in low levels of currency transaction risk. The principal foreign exchange risk is translation-related arising from fluctuations in the euro value of the company's deposits in dollars.

Finance and Interest rate risk

The company's objective in relation to interest rate management is to minimise the impact of interest rate volatility on interest costs in order to protect recorded profitability.

Liquidity and cash flow risk

The company does not have borrowings at the year end. The company's policy is to ensure that sufficient resources are available either from cash balances and cash flows to ensure all obligations can be met when they fall due.

Operational and Strategic Risks

Risks associated with operating in Belarus

The company conducts its charitable programmes mainly in Belarus and this brings a number of operational risks including compliance with local laws, regulations, custom and practice and culture. To manage these risks the company has an office in Minsk, employs Belarusian staff, engages local professional assistance as required and provides briefings for employees and volunteers who make trips to Belarus.

Strategic funding risk

It is now over 37 years since the accident at the Chernobyl nuclear power plant. This inevitably makes it increasingly difficult to keep the Chernobyl story in the minds of the Irish public who have been so generous in supporting CCI throughout this time. Consequently, a significant portion of the time of the CEO is allocated to keeping the Chernobyl story fresh in the public's mind. CCI has also sought to diversify its funding sources.

Reliance of key employees risk

As a comparatively small charity with complex programmes delivered in a foreign country we are very dependent on a number of key employees in Ireland and in Belarus.

Accounting records

The measures taken by the directors to ensure compliance with the requirements of Sections 281 to 285 of the Companies Act 2014 with regard to the keeping of accounting records, are the implementation of necessary policies and procedures for recording transactions, the employment of competent accounting personnel with appropriate expertise, the provision of adequate resources to the financial function and the maintenance of computerised accounting systems. The company's accounting records are maintained at 1A The Stables, Alfred Street, Cork.

Future developments

There are no material changes anticipated in the activities of the company at this time.

Statement on relevant audit information

Each of the persons who are directors at the time when this Directors' Report is approved has confirmed that:

- so far as the director is aware, there is no relevant audit information of which the company's auditors are unaware, and
- the director has taken all the steps that ought to have been taken as a director in order to be aware of any relevant audit information and to establish that the company's auditors are aware of that information.

Under company law, the directors must not approve the financial statements unless they are satisfied that they give a true and fair view of the assets, liabilities and financial position of the company as at the financial year end date, of the surplus or deficit for that financial year and otherwise comply with the Companies Act 2014.

In preparing these financial statements, the directors are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies for the company's financial statements and then apply them consistently;
- make judgements and accounting estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- state whether the financial statements have been prepared in accordance with applicable accounting standards, identify those standards, and note the effect and the reasons for any material departure from those standards; and

They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the company and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

The financial reporting framework that has been applied in their preparation is Irish law and Financial Reporting Standard 102 'The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland'.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the assets, liabilities and financial position of the company as at 31 January 2023 and of its surplus for the year then ended;
- have been properly prepared in accordance with Financial Reporting Standard 102 'The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland'; and
- have been properly prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Companies Act 2014.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (Ireland) (ISAs (Ireland)) and applicable law. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the company in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of financial statements in Ireland, including the Ethical Standard issued by the Irish Auditing and Accounting Supervisory Authority (IAASA), and the provisions available for small entities, in the circumstances set out in note 26 to the financial statements, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Conclusions relating to going concern

In auditing the financial statements, we have concluded that the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting in the preparation of the financial statements is appropriate.

Based on the work we have performed, we have not identified any material uncertainties relating to events or conditions that, individually or collectively, may cast significant doubt on the company's ability to continue as a going concern for a period of at least twelve months from when the financial statements are authorised for issue.

Our responsibilities and the responsibilities of the directors with respect to going concern are described in the relevant sections of this report.

Other information

The directors are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the annual report, other than the financial statements and our Auditors' report thereon. Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and, except to the extent otherwise explicitly stated in our report, we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

Our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If we identify such material inconsistencies or apparent material misstatements, we are required to determine whether there is a material misstatement in the financial statements or a material misstatement of the other information. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact.

We have nothing to report in this regard.

Opinion on other matters prescribed by the Companies Act 2014

Based solely on the work undertaken in the course of the audit, we report that:

- in our opinion, the information given in the Directors' Report is consistent with the financial statements; and
- in our opinion, the Directors' Report has been prepared in accordance with applicable legal requirements.

We have obtained all the information and explanations which we consider necessary for the purposes of our audit.

In our opinion the accounting records of the company were sufficient to permit the financial statements to be readily and properly audited, and the financial statements are in agreement with the accounting records.

Matters on which we are required to report by exception

Based on the knowledge and understanding of the company and its environment obtained in the course of the audit, we have not identified any material misstatements in the Directors' Report.

The Companies Act 2014 requires us to report to you if, in our opinion, the disclosures of directors' remuneration and transactions required by sections 305 to 312 of the Act are not made. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Respective responsibilities and restrictions on use

Responsibilities of directors

As explained more fully in the Directors' Responsibilities Statement on page 8, the directors are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view, and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the directors are responsible for assessing the company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the management either intends to liquidate the company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditors' responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an Auditors' Report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (Ireland) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with ISAs (Ireland), we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the company's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our Auditors' Report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our Auditors' Report. However, future events or conditions may cause the company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

The purpose of our audit work and to whom we owe our responsibilities

This report is made solely to the company's members in accordance with Section 391 of the Companies Act 2014. Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the company's directors those matters we are required to state to them in an Auditors' Report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the company and the company's members for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.
